Reporting cadence

Campaigns are still generating results. Performance changes as budgets, audiences, creatives and landing experiences are optimized. Public metrics should be refreshed at least quarterly.

IMPORTANT REPORTING NOTE

This reference report summarizes available verified data. It is not a financial projection or guarantee of future results. Lead quality and sales outcomes depend on follow-up speed, inventory, pricing, market conditions, buyer intent and other operational factors outside media management alone.

Where the system can evolve next

The strongest next steps connect media efficiency with faster sales action and richer audience intelligence.

CRM integration

Unify lead stages, ownership and sales outcomes

Lead scoring

Prioritize high-intent enquiries for faster follow-up

Creative testing

Build a disciplined testing library by audience and message

Remarketing

Re-engage visitors, video viewers and partial form users

SEO content clusters

Expand buyer education and location-intent coverage

Executive dashboard

Combine media, lead quality and sales progress in one view

Recommended reporting rhythm: monthly optimization reviews + quarterly public reference updates
